

JUBILEE BIG COMMUNITY SING

The Big Community Sing event showcased local musicians and singers in a concert to celebrate the Jubilee weekend. With Mal Walmsley on guitar, Adie Bower (replacing a poorly Matt Taylor at very short notice) on base and Tony Ives on drums, this specially arranged concert celebrated the uplifting music of 1952 and the coronation. It revelled in the hit music of 1952, which was arranged by Helen Porter, director of Calstock's Big Jazz Choir, who also led the singing.

There were over 40 singers, including our youngest soloist Edward, the Big Jazz Choir ensemble, as well as ukulele players and Under the Fingers. A big thank you to everyone for all the hard work & superb performances.

We very much hope you enjoyed the concert.

Many thanks again to everyone involved & the Arts Council England for their support.
