

Our Couples Say

"We had our dream small ceremony at Calstock Arts and will remember it fondly for years to come. The gallery window was the perfect backdrop to say our vows"

"The team were so helpful and nothing was too much trouble. We had originally considered a marquee wedding, but the Old Chapel meant we could have a relaxed wedding without being at the mercy of the Cornish weather!"

"The acoustics, lights and sound system were an awesome addition to our celebrations – our wedding band loved playing at a proper performing arts venue and our guests danced all night long!"

About Us

Nestled on the banks of the meandering River Tamar, Calstock Arts is a converted Methodist chapel offering an enchanting setting for intimate riverside weddings and celebrations.

Sunlight streams through the expansive chapel gallery window, casting a warm glow across a welcoming space that has witnessed generations of gatherings.

With views across the river and rolling countryside beyond, the spellbinding views provide the perfect backdrop for your special day.
